CHAPTER VII

Food Analysis and Testing

45. Appointment of Food Analysts and assigning duties.—(1) For carrying out the purposes of this Act, the Authority, shall appoint such number of Food Analysts as may be necessary to analyze or examine the sample of articles of food or food ingredients.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Authority may, for special purpose, with approval of the Government or any other local authority, assign the duties of a Food Analyst to any government officer or any officer of the local authority, and such officer shall be regarded as a Food Analyst for the purposes of this Act.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) or (2), no person shall be appointed as a Food Analyst or entrusted with the duties of a Food Analyst, if he is, directly or indirectly, involved in any trade or business relating to production or marketing of any article of food or food ingredient.

46. Food testing.—(1) Any person may, after collecting or buying any article of food or food ingredient, cause the sample of such food to be analyzed or examined, on payment of such fees as may be prescribed by regulation, by the Food Analyst under whose jurisdiction the place or source from which such sample is collected or bought falls and may, in the manner prescribed by regulation, procure a certificate of the analysis report or test results :

Provided that, no person shall cause a certificate issued by a food Analyst or a copy thereof to be exhibited at his business establishment or any other place or to be used for any advertisement.

(2) The duties and responsibilities of the Food Analyst appointed under this section shall be prescribed by regulations.

47. Compulsory sale or surrender of food sample for analysis or testing.—(1) For analyzing or testing purpose, the Authority or any person empowered by it may, on payment of the price, collect samples of any article of food or food ingredient offered for sale or kept for the use in production, processing or manufacture :

Provided that, a sample may be collected from any such article of food or food ingredient that is not even offered for sale.

(2) Any sample under sub-section (1) may be collected from any place including the place of sale, production, supply or storage; and the person from whose possession samples of any article of food or food ingredient are asked for, shall be bound to sell or surrender, as the case may be, the sample on demand of the Authority or the person empowered by it :

Provided that, if the price of the sample of the article of food or food ingredient is demanded, such price shall be paid within one month of such demand.

(3) In the case of collecting any sample under this section, the sample provider shall make a declaration with signature in the prescribed form to the effect that he has sold or, as the case may be, surrendered the sample to the Authority or the person empowered by it for analysis or test.

(4) The Authority or the empowered person mentioned in sub-section (1) shall have right, if necessary, to enter into all the places through which the article of food or food ingredient passes or all places where the article of food or food ingredient is delivered or stored; and to examine any records of such places.

48. Procedure for procuring the result of sample analysis or test.—(1) If any person desires to analyze or otherwise examine any sample of any article of food or food ingredient under section 46 or if any sample is sold or surrendered under section 47, the receipt of such sample, where applicable—

- (a) shall immediately inform the matter in writing to the person who sold or surrendered the sample;
- (b) shall, in the manner prescribed by regulations, divide the sample into 4 (four) parts and tie up each part with seal and proper identification mark in presence of the person who sold or surrendered the sample, and thereafter, shall—
  - (i) hand over one part of the sample to the sample seller or provider;
  - (ii) preserve one part as reference sample for future comparison at a place prescribed by regulations; and

- (iii) send the two other parts after packing in an appropriate container mentioning on it the name, address and purpose of the test or analysis, in the manner prescribed by regulations to the Food Analyst or the head of any food laboratory or office having jurisdiction by registered post.

(2) The Food Analyst or the head of the food laboratory or office shall, according to the provisions of section 49, cause to analyze or examine one part of the sample received under sub-section (1) and proceed to next action; and shall preserve the other part in such manner and at such place as may be prescribed by regulations.

49. The duties of a Food Analyst after analysis or examination of samples and giving certificate.—(1) If a sample is sent to a Food Analyst for analysis or examination under section 48, he shall—

- (a) take step to analyze or examine the sample;
- (b) issue a certificate to the sample sender mentioning the analysis or test results, in a form prescribed by regulations, within 7 (seven) working days in general case, and in urgent case, within 3 (three) working days from the date of receipt of the sample; and
- (c) send one copy of the analysis or test results to the Authority.

(2) A document signed by the Food Analyst in the prescribed form as a certificate of analysis or test result shall be treated as an evidence in any investigation, trial or proceeding conducted under this section.

50. Order of the Court to analyze or test a sample.—(1) At the stage of investigation or trial under this Act, the Food Court may, if necessary suo-moto or upon an application by the plaintiff or defendant, pass an order directing the Authority to analyze or examine a sample of any article of food or food ingredient.

(2) The Authority shall, if so directed by the Food Court under sub-section (1) to analyze or examine a sample of any article of food or food ingredient, cause the sample to be analyzed or tested by any laboratory designated by the Government in this behalf and submit the report to the Court.

(3) The report submitted before the court under sub-section (2) shall be admissible as evidence.

(4) All the expenses incurred for testing or analysis under this section shall be borne by the plaintiff or defendant or both as per the instruction of the court.

CHAPTER VIII

Inspection and Seizure of Food

51. Appointment of inspectors and assigning of their duties.—(1) The Authority shall appoint such numbers of Food Safety Inspectors, as may be necessary, for discharging the duties assigned to them under this Act.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Authority may, for special purpose, with the approval of the Government or any other local authority, assign the duties of a Food Safety Inspector to any government officer or any officer of the local authority, and such officer shall, while discharging his duties, be deemed to be a Food Safety Inspector for the purposes of this Act.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) or (2), no person shall be appointed as Food Safety Inspector or entrusted with the duties of a Food Safety Inspector, if he is involved, directly or indirectly, in any trade or business relating to production or marketing of food.

52. Duties and responsibilities of Inspector.—(1) The Inspector shall discharge the following duties and responsibilities, namely :—

- (a) to make regular inspection of any food establishment as per the direction of the Authority;
- (b) where applicable, to examine the terms and conditions of any licence for a food establishment;
- (c) to collect a sample of any food or food ingredient and send it to a Food Analyst for analysis or test, if it appears to him that such article of food or food ingredient is being manufactured, stored, sold or exhibited to sell, in deviation of the provisions of this act or any other existing law;
- (d) to receive, preserve and seize samples of food, and to preserve all records of inspection and to provide copies thereof, according to the direction of the Food Court;
- (e) to make inquiries and inspections, where necessary, to identify whether the article of food or food ingredient is being produced, stored or marketed in deviation of the provisions of this act or any other existing law;
- (f) to make search into a vehicle suspicious of carrying any unsafe food, by stopping it for a minimum reasonable time;
- (g) where the licence or registration of the food business of a person is revoked or suspended in a proceeding under this Act, to keep records of the name and address of the person and the nature and location of the food business;

- (h) to keep records of court orders passed in every proceeding conducted under this Act;
- (i) to send a copy of the court order passed in a proceeding filed or lodged under this Act to the Authority;
- (j) to seize any article of food or food ingredient suspected to be banned for importing or marketing;
- (k) to hold inquiry or investigation, as the case may be, upon receipt of any complaint as to the deviation of any provision of this Act;
- (l) to seize adulterated food; and
- (m) to discharge such other duties as may be directed by the Authority or the Food Court.

53. Power to enter into any food establishment, building or house.—(1)

An Inspector may, in such manner as instructed by the Authority, enter into any food establishment, building or house at any time to ascertain whether anything is being carried out there in violation of any provision of this Act.

(2) No person shall resist or cause to resist an Inspector from entering into any food establishment, building or house for carrying out any lawful functions under sub-section (1).

54. Submission of ledger books, vouchers, documents and accounts.—

An Inspector may, by a written notice, require any person carrying on a trade or commerce of any article of food or food ingredient, or any producer or supplier to submit before him for inspection all ledger books, vouchers and other documents relating to all his trades, businesses, manufactures, traceability or marketing, and every person receiving such notice shall be bound to comply with the demand of the Inspector.

55. Power to seize adulterated food.—(1) An Inspector may, at any time other than the time from midnight to dawn,—

- (a) inspect any distribution premises or supply routes, stock premises, or the condition of substance to be used in food, its place or its processing; and
- (b) examine any ingredient used or to be used in food or any container or receptacle used for manufacturing or marketing any food.

(2) No person shall resist or cause to resist any Inspector from inspecting or examining anything under sub-section (1).

(3) While making an inspection or examination under sub-section (1), if the Inspector has reasons to believe that any living or active ingredient or any container or any of its component, which is kept for use in manufacturing or marketing a food, is injurious to or unwholesome for human health or adulterated, he may seize all such things or all foods made of such things.

(4) No person shall resist or cause to resist the act of seizing anything under sub-section (3).

(5) If any food, ingredient or substance which is believed to be adulterated is under sub-section (3), the Inspector seizing it shall, forthwith separating the sample of it in accordance with the provisions of section 48, divide and hand over the same in the prescribed manner.

(6) If any living or active thing or any container or any of its component or any article of food made of them is seized under sub-section (3), the person seizing it shall—

- (a) immediately remove such living or active thing, container or its component; and
- (b) after removal, keep them in safe place by marking and sealing in the prescribed manner, and take necessary measures according to the provisions of section 56 or section 57, as the case may be.

(7) No person shall resist or cause to resist an act of removing anything under the provisions of this section, and remove any living or active thing, food ingredient or container from the safe custody as kept under clause (b) of sub-section (6) or hand over the same from safe custody.

56. Destruction of living or active ingredient, etc.—(1) If any living or active thing, article of food, food ingredient, substance or container is seized under sub-section (3) of section 55 by an Inspector or any person so empowered by any authority; all such things may be instantly destroyed in presence of the owner or of the person in whose possession such things have been found, or in presence of two witnesses on the written consent of the owner.

(2) If such consent is not given, the living or active thing or article of food or food ingredient or substance so seized shall forthwith be destroyed if such things are found perishable or injurious to human health or unwholesome as human food to the judgment of the Inspector or of the authorized person seizing such things under sub-section (3) of section 55.

(3) All the expenses incurred for taking measures under sub-sections (1) and (2) shall be realized as public demand from the person in whose possession such living or active thing or article of food or food ingredient or substance or container has been found at the time of seizure.

57. Disposal of seized living or active thing or article of food or food ingredient or substance or container.—(1) If any living or active thing or any ingredient or substance or container is seized by an Inspector or any person authorized in this behalf by the Authority as specified in sub-section (3) of section 55, and such living or active thing or article of food or food ingredient or substance or container is not destroyed according to section 56, the person from whose possession such things have been seized shall be informed to the effect that the seized things shall be produced before a Magistrate having local jurisdiction.

(2) Whether any complaint is made or not under this Act or any other law for the time being in force, if any living or active thing or any ingredient or any substance or any container is produced before a Magistrate to consider the matter under sub-section (1), and if the Magistrate, after taking such evidence as he may deem fit, thinks that—

- (a) such food or living or active thing or article of food or food ingredient or substance is injurious to human health or unwholesome as human food or contaminated or adulterated; or
- (b) for sale purpose, such container is used to manufacture or preserve any adulterated food, or any other food injurious to human health or unwholesome as human food or contaminated food, or contains any material, ingredient or substance which is injurious to human health or unwholesome as human food, he shall confiscate such living or active thing or article of food or food ingredient or substance or container in favour of the Authority and ask the Authority to forthwith destroy them, and if so asked, the Authority shall destroy it or take measures to otherwise dispose of it.

CHAPTER IX

Offences, penalty, etc.

58. Punishment for the violation of any provision of this Act.—Whoever violates any provision of this Act as specified in column 3 of the Schedule, shall be deemed to have committed an offence under this Act, and shall be punished with the penalty specified in column (4) for such first offence and with the penalty specified in column (5) for repetition of such offence.

59. Violation of provisions or committing offence by a company.—(1) If the person, who commits an offence or violates any provision of this Act or rules or regulations made thereunder, is a company; the owner, partner, proprietor, chairman, managing director, director, general manager, manager or secretary of that company, or any of its directly concerned officer, employee or agent, by whatever name called, shall be deemed to have violated the provision or committed the offence, unless he proves that such violation or offence has been committed beyond his knowledge or despite his due diligence, he has failed to prevent such violation or offence.

(2) If the company mentioned in sub-section (1) is a body corporate, besides prosecuting or convicting the persons mentioned in such sub-section, the company may also be prosecuted and convicted in the same proceeding, but in criminal cases, the company shall only be liable to fine under the relevant provision.

Explanation.—In this section—

- (a) “company” includes any organization, whether incorporated or not, commercial institution, partnership business, society, club or association; and
- (b) “director”, in case of commercial institution, also includes any of its partner or any member of the Board of Directors.

60. Bailable and cognizable offence.—The offences mentioned in sections 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 33, 34, 35 and 37 of this Act shall be cognizable and non-bailable, and except those offences, all other offences of this Act shall be non-cognizable and bailable.

61. Procedures to be followed for an offence under any other law.—Notwithstanding anything contained contrary in any other law for the time being in force, where an offence stated under this Act is also a special offence with higher penalty under any other Act, there shall be no legal bar to try the offence under this Act, treating it to be an anti-food safety special offence under this Act :

Provided that if the Authority, depending on the nature and significance of the offence, thinks that, it is justified to try the case by the concerned special court or special tribunal, as the case may be; the Chairman shall, through the officer authorized by him, take necessary step to file the case before the special court or the special tribunal, as the case may be, to ensure effective trial.

62. Payment of a part of the fine to the complainant.—If any person is convicted and thereby punished with fine by a Food Court, the concerned complainant shall be entitled to get 25 (twenty five) percent of the said amount as incentive :

Provided that if the complainant is an officer or employee of the Authority, he shall not be eligible to get such incentive.

63. Cooperation in identifying the actual offender, etc.—(1) If it appears beyond doubt that the food seller is not involved knowingly in any act of violation of any provision of this Act, and if the food seller is ready, if necessary, to cooperate with the Authority to identify the violator of the provision of this Act, necessary steps may be initiated to identify the actual violator instead of prosecuting the food seller under this Act.

(2) Where any contaminated, adulterated, misbranded or unwholesome article of food or food ingredient is sold from any shop, and if such article of food or food ingredient is produced or prepared in a legal or approved industry, factory or food establishment, and if it appears beyond doubt that the owner of the shop or shopkeeper or manager has no involvement with the production or manufacture process of such article of food or food ingredient, and if the owner of the shop or shopkeeper is ready, if necessary, to cooperate with the Authority to identify the violator of the provision of this Act, necessary steps may be initiated to identify the actual person who violates instead of prosecuting or taking administrative measures against the owner of the shop or shopkeeper or manager under this Act.

(3) If any person, after purchasing any food, sells the same as a hawker or a feriwala for his livelihood, and if such food is found to be misbranded, adulterated or otherwise defective, and if the food consumer is affected thereby, and if it appears beyond doubt for similar reason that he has not, willfully or inconvenience with or knowingly sold the food to the consumer for gaining any illegal benefit, and the hawker or a feriwala is ready, if necessary, to cooperate with the Authority to identify the violator of the provision of this Act, necessary steps may be taken to identify the actual violator instead of prosecuting or taking administrative measures against the hawker or the feriwala under this Act.

(4) If any highly perishable food, like raw fish and vegetables, is found in naturally spoiled condition with any hawker or a feriwala or at any shop, and if it appears beyond doubt for similar reason that he has not, willfully or in connivance with, sold or attempted to sell such food to the consumer for gaining any illegal benefit knowing that the food has turned spoiled, then, instead of prosecuting or taking administrative measures or proceedings against the hawker or the feriwala or the shopkeeper under this Act, preventive measures may be taken by the Authority against such spoilage of food.

(5) Any person indemnified from the liabilities under this section shall, if directed or requested by the Authority, be bound to assist the Authority to immediately identify the source of the misbranded or adulterated food and, if necessary, to become a witness during trial.

CHAPTER X

Food Court, Complaint, Trial, etc.

64. Designation of Food Court, its power and jurisdiction.—(1) There shall be such numbers of courts as may be necessary to be called the Pure Food Court for the trial of offences under this Act.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, for the purposes of sub-section (1), the Government in consultation with the Supreme Court may, by notification in the official Gazette, designate any court of

1st Class Magistrate or, as the case may be, in Metropolitan area, the court of Metropolitan Magistrate as Pure Food Court and, if more than one court are designated, shall specify the jurisdiction of each court.

(3) The Government in consultation with the Supreme Court may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, define or redefine the jurisdiction of the court designated under sub-section (1).

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, in respect of imposing fine to any person under this Act, the Food Court shall have the power to impose fine of any scale as provided in this Act.

65. Trial.—(1) The trial of an offence under this Act shall generally be held by the Food Court within whose local jurisdiction, the offence is committed.

(2) The Food Court shall try the offences under this Act summarily and in this behalf, unless otherwise provided in this Act, shall follow, to the extent it applies, the provisions laid down in Chapter XXII of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

66. Complaint and case filing.—(1) Any person, including food purchaser, consumer, food receiver or user, may lodge a complaint in writing to the Chairman or any person authorized by him in this behalf or an Inspector, in respect of any anti-food safety practice under this Act.

(2) After being informed of an offence under this Act, the Chairman or the person authorized by him in this behalf or the Inspector, if primarily be confirmed about the commission of such offence after making necessary inquiry or investigation, shall file a case before the Food Court.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained contrary in this section, any person may lodge a case before the Food Court in respect of any anti-food safety practice within 30 (thirty) days from the date of cause of such act.

67. Investigation and Investigating Officer.— (1) Any officer authorized by the Chairman or an Inspector having local jurisdiction shall, as an Investigating Officer, investigate all complaints lodged under this Act.

(2) During investigation of any complaint under this Act, the Investigating Officer may exercise powers as an Officer-in-Charge of a Police Station pursuant to the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(3) During investigation under sub-section (1), the Investigating Officer may, if necessary, ask for assistance from any organization including law enforcing agencies, and if such assistance is asked for, the organization or agency shall be bound to provide that.

68. Time limit for investigation.— (1) Any officer authorized by the Chairman or the Inspector shall conclude the investigation within 90 (ninety) working days from the date of issuing order of investigation by a Food Court.

(2) If it is not possible, for any reason, to conclude the investigation within the time limit mentioned in sub-section (1) the investigating officer shall, for reasons to be recorded in writing, conclude the investigation within next 30 (thirty) working days and inform the Food Court the reasons thereof in writing.

(3) If the investigation is not also possible to be concluded within the time limit mentioned in sub-section (2), the concerned investigation officer shall, within next 24 (twenty four) hours of expiring the extended period, inform the Food Court in writing as to non-completion of such investigation.

(4) After being informed of the non-completion of the investigation under sub-section (3) the Food Court shall transfer the responsibility of investigation of such complaint to any other officer and pass an order directing the controlling authority of such officer to initiate departmental proceedings against him treating his failure to conclude the investigation within the given timeframe as a disqualification.

69. Power to issue warrant.—If the Food Court, upon an application made by the Authority or an officer empowered in this behalf, has reasons to believe that—

- (a) an offence under this Act has been committed by any person; or
- (b) anything relating to an offence under this Act, or any document, paper or other thing necessary to prove such offence has been left in any place or lied with any person;

the court may, recording the reasons of such belief in writing, issue a warrant to arrest such person or to search the place at any time by day or at night.

70. Power to search, arrest, etc.—The provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure shall be applicable for a search warrant, an arrest or a seizure to be effected under this Act.

71. Provisions regarding the person arrested and goods seized.—(1) If any person is arrested or any article is seized on the basis of a warrant issued under section 69, the person so arrested, or the article so seized shall forthwith be sent to the Officer-in-Charge of the nearest Police Station.

(2) The officer to whom the person so arrested, or the article so seized is sent under sub-section (1), shall take, as soon as possible, legal actions against such person or in respect of such article.

72. Evidential value of photographs taken on camera or of recorded conversation, etc.—Notwithstanding anything contained contrary to the Evidence Act, 1872 (Act No. 1 of 1872), if any person connected with the food safety management system or any member of any law enforcing agency or any other person shoots or takes any video footage or still photograph of, or records any conversation or discussions about, any occurrence of committing or preparation for committing or abetment for committing any offence or mischief stated in this Act, such video footage, still photograph or audio record shall be admissible as evidence at the trial of any case relating to such offence or mischief.

73. Testing of food to ascertain the veracity of complaint.—(1) In ascertaining the veracity of any complaint, where the Food Court is of the opinion that it is not possible to ascertain the veracity of any complaint without proper analysis or testing of any food; the court may ask the complainant to submit a sample of such food, cause it to be authenticated with a seal in the manner determined by it and send it to such laboratory as designated by the Government or the Authority with a direction to analyze or examine the sample for tracing the presence of prohibited substance inside it.

(2) If any sample of food is sent to a laboratory under sub-section (1) for test, the laboratory shall forward a test report to the court within 1 (one) month from the date of sending of the sample :

Provided that, if the test is not possible to be completed within the time limit for any reason, the time for the test may be extended for another 2 (two) weeks if the laboratory asks for.

(3) Food Court may pass an order directing the concerned person or authority to submit necessary money or fee to meet the expenditure to be incurred for the test before sending the sample to the laboratory designated by the Government or the Authority for the sake of ascertaining the veracity of the complaint.

74. Appeal.—If any person is aggrieved with any judgment or order passed by a Food Court, he may, within 30 (thirty) days from the date of receiving such judgment or order, prefer an appeal to the Court of a Sessions judge having local jurisdiction over the matter.

75. Jurisdiction of the Mobile Court.—Notwithstanding anything contained contrary in this Act, the offences under this Act may, to the extent it is applicable, be tried in accordance with the provisions of the Mobile Court Act, 2009 (Act No. LIX of 2009).

CHAPTER XI

Civil Remedies

76. Civil remedies.—(1) There shall be no legal bar for any affected person or food consumer to institute a civil suit in a competent court claiming civil remedies against a person who is prosecuted for any activity against this Act and convicted of any criminal offence committed thereby.

(2) If any food consumer is affected by any anti-food safety practice of any seller, and if the reparation is assessable in terms of money, the consumer may institute a civil suit in any competent court claiming compensation not exceeding 5 (five) times of the assessed amount.

(3) The Civil court may, upon appreciation of the plaint, written statement, evidences and other circumstances, pass an order directing the defendant to pay such amount of compensation, as considered for the sake of justice, but within the limit not exceeding 5 (five) times of the actual assessed amount.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained contrary in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act No. V of 1908), the Contract Act, 1872 (Act No. IX of 1872) and the Civil Courts Act, 1887 (Act No. XII of 1887), the provisions of this section shall prevail.

77. Civil appeal.— Notwithstanding anything contained contrary in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act No. V of 1908) and the Civil Courts Act, 1887 (Act No. XII of 1887), an appeal against the judgment or decree passed by a court under section 76 of this Act, shall lie to the Court of a District judge having local jurisdiction within 90 days from the date of such judgment.

CHAPTER XII

Administrative Inquiry and Fine

(78). Power of the Authority to conduct administrative inquiry.— (1) If any person has any allegation on purity of any food, he may, in the manner prescribed by rules, apply in writing to the Authority for taking Administrative action against it.

(2) Within 30 (thirty) days from the date of receiving an application under sub-section (1), the Authority shall, after conducting necessary administrative inquiry on such allegation, give an appropriate direction to the person who prepared, marketed or sold such food as to what he should do for this.

(3) For holding the inquiry under sub-section (2), the Authority may appoint any of its officers as Inquiry Officer for the purposes of this section.

(4) The Inquiry Officer appointed under sub-section (3) shall hold inquiry in the manner prescribed by rules and submit a report thereof to the Authority.

(5) If the Authority, after considering the inquiry report submitted under this section, gives any direction to any person related there to, such person shall be bound to comply with such directions, and if he fails to comply with such direction, the Authority may, in the manner prescribed by rules, impose upon him an administrative fine not exceeding Taka 3 (three) lakh.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (5), no administrative fine shall be imposable under this section for the violation of sections 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 33, 34, 35 and 37.

(7) If any person fails to pay the administrative fine imposed under this section within prescribed time, it shall be recoverable as public demand under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913 (Act IX of 1913).

79. Appeal.— If any person is aggrieved by an order passed under section 78, he may prefer an appeal to the Government within 30 (thirty) days from the date of receiving such order and the Government shall take appropriate steps to dispose of such appeal within 60 (sixty) days from the date of preferring the appeal.

CHAPTER XIII

Miscellaneous

80. Public servant.— The Chairman, members, officers and employees of the Authority including every Food Analyst and Inspector appointed or designated under this Act shall be regarded as a public servant within the meaning of the term “public servant” as defined in section 21 of the Penal Code.

81. Failure in discharging duties by government officers and employees.— (1) If any Government officer and employee fails to discharge his duty in preventing offence under this Act or in violation of any provision, he shall be liable for such failure or violation unless he proves that such failure or violation, as the case may be, has occurred beyond his knowledge or despite his due diligence, has failed to prevent such failure or violation.

(2) If any government officer and employee is found liable for the failure or violation mentioned in sub-section (1), he shall be charged with violation of the conduct and disciplinary rules applicable for a government employee, and consequently departmental proceedings shall be initiated against him.

82. Cooperation of the concerned Ministries, Divisions and organizations.— To ensure proper implementation of this Act, the Government may, if necessary, in consultation with the Council, by notification in the official Gazette, specify the areas of cooperation among different Ministries, Divisions, Directorates, Departments and Local Government Bodies and non-governmental organizations and determine their duties, responsibilities and accountabilities.

83. Preservation of confidential information.— If the Authority is requested not to disclose any information provided to it by a person and if the Authority agreed with such request, the Authority shall not disclose it to any third party, or use it as a source of information:

Provided that, such information may be disclosed to the public if it is necessary for the protection of public health.

84. Annual report.— The Authority shall, by 31st January of every year, submit to the Government an annual report on the activities carried out by it during the previous year and the Government may, at any time, require the Authority to submit a report or statement on any of its activities.

85. Delegation of Power.— In case of urgency, the Authority may, by an order made in writing, upon specific conditions, delegate any of his powers or responsibilities entrusted upon it by this Act to the Chairman, any member or any other officer of it.

86. Power to make rules.— The Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

87. Power to make regulations.— The Authority, with prior approval of the Government, may, by notification in the official Gazette, make regulations to carry out the purposes of this Act.

88. Removal of ambiguity.— To give effect to any provision of this Act, if any ambiguity arises, the Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, remove such ambiguity, subject to keeping consistency with the provisions of this Act.

89. Publication of English translation of the Act.— After the commencement of this Act, the Government may, if necessary, by notification in the official Gazette, publish an authentic English text of the Act:

Provided that in the event of conflict between the Bangla and the English text, the Bangla text shall prevail.

90. Repeal and savings.— (1) On the commencement of this Act, the Pure Food Ordinance, 1959 (E.P. Ordinance No. LXVIII of 1959), hereinafter referred as the said Act, shall stand repealed.

(2) The Pure Food Court established under sub-section (1) of section 41 of the said Act shall be deemed to be the Pure Food Court as designated under section 64, and the cases pending before Pure Food Court may be disposed of therein according to sub-section (3) of this section.

(3) The cases remain pending under the said Act immediately before such repeal and the appeal against the order passed, judgment given or penalty imposed in such cases shall be conducted and disposed of respectively before the concerned Pure Food Court and the concerned court of appeal in such way as if the said Act had not been repealed.

(4) Notwithstanding repeal under sub-section (1)—

- (a) the rules and regulations made under the said Act, subject to being consistence with this Act, and until repealed or amended under this Act, shall have effect;
- (b) any act or proceeding under the said Act if remains pending immediately before the commencement of this Act shall be disposed of under the said Act in such way as if this Act had not been made.
